

NICOLA DI LORENZO

1-9-1958 Born in Avezzano (Italy),

1984 Medical degree at Catholic University of Rome School of Medicine;

1989 Board certified in General Surgery;

1994 Ph.D. in Microsurgery and minimally invasive techniques

2002 Assistant Professor of Surgery- University of Rome-Tor Vergata-

2004 Vice Coordinator PhD Program on Robotics and informatics in surgery - University of Rome-Tor Vergata

In 2002, Faculty – (“New instrumentation in miniinvasive surgery” and “Internet and biomedical research”) in the International Fellowship on “Biotechnology in surgical sciences and transplantation.

From 1994 to 2002 Faculty – (Geriatric surgery)- Residency program of Geriatrics -University of L'Aquila.

From 1994-2003 Faculty – ((Laparoscopic surgery of the liver and the biliary tract) – Residency program of Digestive Surgery and Surgical Endoscopy - University of Rome-Tor Vergata.

From 2003 Faculty – ((Surgical techniques) – Residency program of Digestive Surgery and Surgical Endoscopy - University of Rome-Tor Vergata.

From 1994-2002 Faculty - Postgraduate Course on Minimally invasive Surgery and Microsurgery in emergency-University of Rome-Tor Vergata.

From 2004 Faculty of Minimally invasive surgical instrumentation in the Master for Scrub nurses of the Università di Roma Tor Vergata

From 2004 Faculty of minimally invasive surgery in the Università di Roma Tor Vergata School of medicine

From 2005 Faculty of digestive and bariatric surgery in the course of Human nutrition of the Università di Roma Tor Vergata School of Medicine.

Fellow and member of the Steering Committee - President for 2005 of SMIT (Society of Medical innovation and technology)

Fellow and member of the Technology Committee of EAES (European Association for Endoscopic Surgery)

Fellow and member of the International Advisory Board of SLS (Society of Laparoendoscopic Surgeons) Honorary Chairman of the 2006 Annual Conference – Boston, sept.6-9,2006

Counselor and member of the Technology Committee of the Italian Chapter of ACS (American College of Surgeons), Counselor of the Italian Society for computer-assisted surgery (SICTeCA), Counselor of the Italian Society for bariatric surgery (SICOB)

Member of the Editorial Board of MITAT (Minimally invasive Therapy & allied technologies)

Fellow of :ACS, SIC-Italian Society of Surgery, SICE(Italian Society of Endoscopic Surgery),.

He organized national and international Meeting on new technologies in Surgery and he is Author of more than 150 scientific papers and videos published on national and international Journals, mainly focused in the field of minimally invasive surgery and new technologies.